1 About Gapuwiyak¹

Gapuwiyak is on the shore of Lake Evella in north-east Arnhem Land, about 500 km east of Darwin and 120 km west of Nhulunbuy. It is one of the Northern Territory's easternmost settlements.

Aboriginal people have inhabited this region for 40,000 years. The Gapuwiyak community was established by Methodist missionaries in the late 1960s to supply timber for missions in the region. Timber workers came from the surrounding areas of Burrum, Raymangirr, Bunhanura and Balma, and from Galiwin'ku.

Those from Galiwin'ku returned to their own country when they were not working but those from the surrounding areas stayed near the timber mill and established the Gapuwiyak community. In the 1970s the mission ended and Gapuwiyak became Aboriginal land under the Aboriginal Land Rights (Northern Territory) Act 1976.

1.1 Population²

The population of Gapuwiyak and its surrounds in 2016 was approximately 923, of which 868 were Aboriginal or Torres Strait Islander People (94%). In 2016, 39.7% of Gapuwiyak population was younger than 20 years of age.

1.2 Power and water

Electricity is supplied by diesel generators. Chlorinated water is supplied to the town via three bores, located on the town boundary. Three sewage ponds where wastewater is treated are also located on the town boundary.

1.3 ICT information

- Full telephone and internet services
- 4GX available on compatible devices, typical download speed 2 to 75 Mbps
- Some parts 3G devices only
- Television coverage is digital.

1.4 Access

1.4.1 Air

The town is serviced by a tarmac airstrip.

1.4.2 Road

Gapuwiyak is accessed via the Central Arnhem Highway, an unsealed road. Distance from Nhulunbuy to Gapuwiyak is 220km and from Katherine 556km. A permit is required to travel the Central Arnhem Highway - nlc.org.au/articles/info/tourist-transit-work-research-permits. Sections of the Central Arnhem Highway may be closed or there may be vehicle restrictions during the wet season and it is advised to check the road report before travelling - ntlis.nt.gov.au/roadreport/region.jsp?name=top_end

The Gapuwiyak Access Road is a 24.3km gravel roadway which links the community of Gapuwiyak to the Central Arnhem Highway.

1.5 Local government

The East Arnhem Regional Council provides local government in Gapuwiyak. Gapuwiyak resides in the Ward of Gumurr Miyarrka. This is one of six wards in the Council and elects two of the 14 council members. The Council's headquarters are in Nhulunbuy and it has a service delivery centre in Gapuwiyak.

The Council consults local people through the Mala Leaders Group - the Local Authority. This group meets monthly. It has organisational and secretarial support from the Government Business Manager, who mentors the chair of the Mala Leaders Group. The group is expanding to include a youth mentoring program and a strong women's subgroup.
